Jump Into Summer With This Year's Reading Challenge!

DOUG
SMITH
NYS Assemblyman

With COVID-19 keeping us at home, one of the most fun summer traditions was at risk – the Summer Reading Challenge! No matter the obstacle, Doug Smith wants to bring summer reading fun to you!

This summer's theme is a great one: "Imagine Your Story." This year is a celebration of fairy tales, folklore, mythology, and you – your voice, your imagination, and your personality!

This year, so kids can have fun during the Summer Reading Challenge while remaining smart and strong, New York's libraries will be holding digital and online events for children of all ages. From reading challenges to fun activities, these summer months can be just as fun for reading even if the world is a bit different today. To sign up for Summer Reading and find out what YOUR local library has planned for summer reading and summer learning programs, check out your local library's website.

There will also be updated information, resources, and activities for summer reading on the website, www.summerreadingnys.org. Schools also have online resources for summer reading fun!

Libraries across Long Island are looking forward to seeing you for this year's challenge!
