

Dear Neighbor,

New York City is home to people of all cultures and backgrounds. It's our diversity that makes this city so great. And to ensure that everyone has an opportunity to build a bright future here, I've made it one of my top priorities to maintain the most affordable rent possible for working families so they aren't priced out of our neighborhoods. That's why I successfully fought to extend rent-regulation laws and strengthen protections for tenants as part of the Assembly's Families First agenda.

I also want to make sure you are aware of the Rent Guidelines Board's decision to freeze rent for tenants in rent-stabilized apartments with one-year leases. This historic move will help provide meaningful relief and stability to tenants and was the right thing to do.

But our work doesn't end here. I'll keep fighting for strong rent regulations and tenant protections because they're vital for the success of our families and this city. As always, my door is open. If you have questions about rent-regulation laws or any other local issue, please don't hesitate to contact me.

Sincerely,
