Seawright Pushes for New Buses in the Community

New York City Transit

The MTA has recently announced 79 new buses equipped with Wi-Fi service and USB ports are arriving in Manhattan. The new buses will replace nearly 40 percent of the MTA's current fleet and represent a $1.3 billion investment of Capital Program resources. We can expect more than 2,042 state-of-the-art new buses joining New York City's transportation fleet over the course of five years.

Additionally, the MTA is in the process of upgrading existing buses with Wi-Fi and USB charging ports. By the end of this year, all express buses will be retrofitted with Wi-Fi and USB charging ports. The buses will also feature bus operator partitions as well as cameras to enhance the safety of both bus operators and passengers.

After the initial delivery of 3 buses this week, units will arrive at a rate of approximately 3 to 5 buses per week. All 79 buses will be in service by the end of this year and will be running in our community on the M14, M15, M101, M102 and M103.

Seawright Introduces Legislation to Inform Consumers About Electric Bikes

Assembly Member Seawright recently introduced A6960 which would require the labeling of electric bicycles sold in New York State. The labeling would warn consumers that electric bicycles are prohibited from being used on roadways.

Electric bicycles are deemed to be "motor vehicles" and, as such, cannot be operated on public roads unless they have license plates, registration, insurance, and meet all the equipment requirements. Other than extensively researching the Vehicle and Traffic Law, consumers would otherwise have no way of knowing that the electric bicycle they intend to buy is barred from being used on roadways. By labeling the packaging of electric bikes, consumers are made aware of the restriction prior to making the purchase.

Seawright Speaks at Community Board Meeting

At the April Community Board 8 meeting, Seawright delivered remarks on the adoption of this year's state budget. The $153.5 billion included: $125 million for senior housing, $65 million for the MTA Capital Plan, a free tuition program for SUNY and CUNY students, $95 million for public libraries, $200 million for NYCHA, and raise the age for criminal prosecution. She also announced sponsorship on assembly bill A7214, which would require an air quality study around the 91st Street Waste Transfer Station.

Seawright's Third Annual Summer Reading Challenge in Partnership with Local Public Libraries

As summer nears, so does the fun. It's not only a time for children to play outside until the sun goes down, but also an opportunity for their imaginations to run wild as they dive into a new, exciting book. That's why, in partnership with New York State libraries, Assembly Member Seawright is inviting children to participate in the Assembly's annual Summer Reading Challenge. This year's theme is "Build a Better World," encouraging readers to think about ways they can improve and transform their own communities. Young readers are rewarded with the Assembly Excellence in Reading certificate to recognize their efforts and dedication.

"From fiction to biography, fairy tales to superhero adventures, books offer kids a chance to meet unforgettable characters, explore new times and places and learn important lessons," said Seawright. "So when school ends and summer begins, let's make sure our kids keep reading and stay on the path to a brighter future."

By partnering with our local library, the Assembly's Summer Reading Challenge ensures that any child can find a book to enjoy. While they're there, they can also take advantage of the wide variety of enrichment programs that libraries offer.

The challenge asks children to read a book for a minimum of 15 minutes a day for at least 40 days during July and August. Children can read alone or with a partner or caregiver and mark off days on the calendar provided. Once they've completed 40 days or more, they submit the calendar to Assembly Member Seawright and then receive a certificate in the mail.

"Encouraging reading is so important to our kids, and summer is a time when they can really follow their own interests," said Seawright. "The memories made getting lost in a good book will stay with them forever."

Contact the District Office at 212-288-4607 to receive the Summer Reading Challenge materials.
